
Preselected fixed grid in all panels. Historical M2 used binary supervision; other models used continuous targets.